

Take a walk with me. Have a look around! Our farm looks very nice because of all of the work that every hardworking fairy here does. There are some things that we feel like doing just like traditional farmers these days—it's great to work with our hands! Some other things, we'd rather do in the fairy way. Just last week we repainted the fence using fairy magic! I took the whole pail of white paint, poured it in a big puddle by the fence; I circled that big puddle three times and flicked some fairy dust from my wings at it! In a flash of magic, seconds later the fence was painted! But here's a fairy secret: we can only use our magic when no tourists are around! In the busy season, we often make improvements after twilight falls, or on days of the week when no visitors are allowed through our territory.
